NATIONAL RESEARCH COUNCIL

2101 CONSTITUTION AVENUE WASHINGTON, D.C. 20418

OFFICE OF THE CHAIRMAN

February 9, 1984

John N. McMahon
Deputy Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. McMahon:

I very much appreciate your willingness to participate in the February 14th seminar, Export Controls: Reconciling National Objectives.

Enclosed is a copy of the seminar agenda, which will include discussion of three broad issues. The first session, at which you will speak, will consider the justification for and consequences of controls. At this session we will explore the broad policy issues that are raised by export controls. Participants will discuss the national security and foreign policy justification for controls and the impact of controls on U.S. economic competitiveness and research and development, etc. William Schneider, Undersecretary of State for Security Assistance, Science, and Technology, and Roland Schmitt, Sr. Vice President, Corporate Research and Development at General Electric, will also participate in this session. The second session will discuss the special problem of controls on technical data, and the impact of data control on research universities and multinational corporations. The third and last session will consider the creation of an effective and efficient control system. Discussion will include such questions as the function, effectiveness, and implementation of the MCTL, and the consequences of unilateral controls. There will be a roundtable discussion at dinner.

We anticipate good attendance at this seminar, with representation from industry, the Congress and Executive Branch agencies, and universities. Enclosed is a list of participants. We plan an interactive format with speakers presenting short summary statements of about 15 minutes followed by questions and discussion.

Thank you again for your participation. Should you have any questions, please call Anne Keatley (202) 334-2431.

Best regards,
